Dear Harold,

Something which I forgot to include in my letter to you earlier today has just come to mind. It is your generous offer made when I was there of having copies of PM and PMIII made for me by Paul.

As you may know, I would very much like to have copies of these books for my own reference, recognizing that they are, in effect, actual published books, and copyrighted.

I believe you indicated that Paul can put two pages on a single legal sized page, thus reducing the cost to 2¢ per page. Whatever the cost, I'd like to get copies soon as possible. Please tell me about how much to send, and who to send it to. But no rush--when you get a chance.

And I do really appreciate your making these available to me.

Best,

Howard
